Telephone call Frank Brooks to Dr. Marks
from Chicago 4:40 pm April 8, 1974

We should finish up with Rowland's records today. There is a bulk of information. We will bring this back intact. We have some records that relate to the early days that we want to pursue tomorrow. We have appointments with other people who can assist us on that. I think we will be able to finish up tomorrow. We have the information on the original 18 plus the 19th. We have records on 19 plus a bit of information on 6 more which are entirely new. The six new ones are plutonium. The four that are still living - the names are being cut from the records but everything else is remaining intact. We have practically all the clinical information on the others. We are going to try to go back in old records to see if we can find who gave it and what orders were given. We are getting the information on the location, names and addresses of the families of deceased. We have some of the exhumation information. We have several of the families have been approached -- approximately 10. Some have lead up blind allies. We are going to try to get all of the authentic names. We will probably be in the operations office tomorrow.
